This tamp was possessed of little beyond a wonderful assortment of chills. As he trailed along West South Temple street yesterday morning his bones could be heard ratiting in a way that would put the efforts of the man at the extreme left end of a minstrel circle to shame. His sole ambition was to get warm.

With that end in view he crawled into the basement of Frank Jennings' home. 334 West South Temple street. Still his ambition was not gratified. To be true he had shelter from the fog outside, but there was no fire to warm his blood.

WYOMING MAN ARRESTED.

Wanted For Passing Worthless Checks at Kemmerer.

A. C. Rowan was arrested last night by the sheriff on a warrant issued from Uinta county, Wyoming, charging Rowan with obtaining goods under false pretenses. It seems that Rowan issued a draft on a bank in Virginia which was guaranteed by two Ogden young men and cashed at Kemmerer. The draft was returned as worthless, hence the complaint. A similar charge may be brought against him in Ogden, as the same young men, it is understood, guaranteed a check which was cashed at a Twenty-fifth street clothing store and also returned as worthless.
